

The 97th Annual Meeting of the Congregation of Park Avenue Synagogue will take place in the Sanctuary, Thursday, May 24 at 7:45 P.M. SHARP. George M. Shapiro, Chairman of the Board of Directors, will preside; Rabbi Judah Nadich will install the officers of the various "arms". Each and every member of the Park Avenue Synagogue is URGED to attend this meeting as it is at this meeting that congregants can become informed of not only what has transpired over the past year, but also what the plans are for the coming year.

Report of the Nominating Committee

At 8:15 P.M. on Saturday, May 5, the doors swing open on the annual Mr. and Mrs. Club Art Show, an event for the synagogue family as well as for the entire community. The Lemberg Auditorium and its adjoining room, the Sisterhood Lounge, are turned into a gallery containing oils, watercolors, graphics, and sculpture, providing a feast for the senses.

Artists, critics of the art world, and the congregation are invited to the Black Tie Opening. The Opening enables the members of the synagogue to preview first the works of art on display and sale.

The Art Show is open to the public from 4 to 10 P.M. on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 6, 7, 8 and 9. It is a major fundraiser for the Mr. and Mrs. Club who have been able, with the monies raised, to make significant contributions over the years to the Building Fund of the synagogue. It is an effort which requires the thought, work, and cooperation of every member of the Mr. and Mrs. Club as the members select, assemble, catalog and hang every piece of art seen in the Art Show. It is a monumental task, especially since the Art Show gets bigger every year.

Sefirah

One of the first things that God did after beginning his creation was to count. God did not leave the first day alone by simply describing it, but he took note of it and placed it in an order by giving it a name: "Day One." At a later time in Jewish history, Jews themselves were required to make a counting — in Hebrew SEFIRAH — which goes on at this season of the year. From the second night of Passover until the last night before the holiday of Shavuot, we make a special effort to count. A blessing is recited, ("al sefiart ha-omer") and, following the blessing, we begin a new number each day.

Why this obsession with counting between Pesah and Shavuot? The numbering has a unique function, for it ties together these two holidays. You see, there are some who feel the importance of Pesah alone: they sing the praises of freedom and emphasize the need to be redeemed again and again from slavery. There is an excitement to redemption; there is a hope which enables people to gain strength to throw off their chains.

But for what? What is the vision which illuminates the goal of coming out of Egypt? What will substitute for the order which even is present in the life of a slave? Will freedom be an invitation to chaos, will it be anarchy — without meaning, without significant goal?

In the Jewish tradition, Pesah begins a phase rather than being the last word. Pesah begins a march through the desert which is to end at Mt. Sinai. Pesah is not an invitation to unbridled, undirected freedom alone. Rather, freedom in Judaism is freedom under the Law. Pesah, which begins the process, has Shavuot — the holiday which celebrates receiving the Torah — at its end.

Lest this be forgotten, we count 49 days — seven full weeks — until we

The Festival of Shavuot is one of the major festivals of the Jewish year and is one about which many Jews know very little. To understand more about this basic holiday, join the members of the congregation, as well as parents of the students in the Religious School, at the Shavuot Seminar on Tuesday, May 15, at 8:30 P.M., in the Library.

Seminary to Honor Arthur Fine and Dr. Alexander Richman

Arthur Fine, a Vice President, and Dr. Alexander Richman, an Honorary Vice President of Park Avenue Synagogue, will be honored at a Gala Dinner, sponsored by the Jewish Theological Seminary of America on Wednesday, May 30.

This dinner, an annual event held in the Lemberg Auditorium of the synagogue, will have as its special guest speaker, Professor Yosef Yerushalmi, Professor of Hebrew and Jewish History at Harvard University and the Chairman of its Department of Near Eastern Languages and Civilizations. By popular request, Ms. Elaine Malbin will return this year to provide an interlude of musical treats.

Arthur Fine

Arthur Fine, a member of the Board of Trustees of Park Avenue Synagogue for many years, is currently Vice President of the Synagogue and Chairman of the Finance Committee. This is not the first time that Mr. Fine has been singled out by the Seminary for a well deserved honor: he has been awarded three Citations by the Seminary in addition to the present honor.

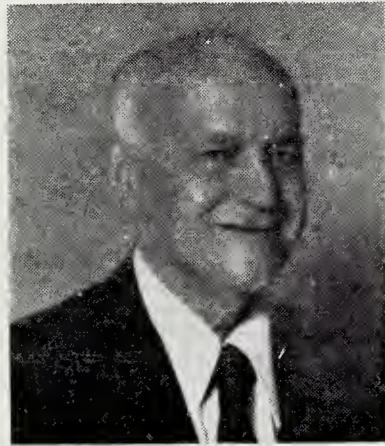

Mr. Fine is a graduate of New York University and President of M. Fine & Sons Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of work clothes since 1890. He is a former President of Temple Israel of Great Neck and was the Chairman of its Building Fund. He also was a Founder and General Chairman of the Great Neck Friends of the Seminary.

In 1976, he was honored by Park Avenue Synagogue as Hatan Breshit, during the celebration of Simhat Torah.

His wife, Sylvia, is also a graduate of New York University; a very active member of Sisterhood and the UJA/

Federation Women's Division — Manhattan Organizations, she is also a Founder in Technion.

Mr. and Mrs. Fine have three children, Lucy, Joseph, and Alice and five grandchildren.

Dr. Alexander Richman

Alexander Richman is a physician in private practice in New York City. He is a graduate of the College of the City of New York and New York Medical College. His academic and professional credits are long and distinguished. His service to the synagogue has been, and continues to be, devoted. He was the Chairman of the Ritual Committee at the time when the change from the Reconstructionist Prayer Book to the Rabbinical Assembly Prayer Book was accomplished. He has appeared before the Jewish Theological Seminary Committee on the Status of Women to speak in behalf of the ordination of women.

He has travelled to Israel many times and has presented papers before Israeli medical societies.

Dr. Richman is Clinical Professor of Medicine, Mt. Sinai School of Medicine, and Attending Physician and Chief of the Liver Clinic of the Mt. Sinai Hospital. He is the author of some 40 papers, as well as chapters in two books, on the diseases of the gastrointestinal tract, liver and pancreas.

His wife, Dr. Charlotte Yudell, is a practicing psychiatrist and Instructor in Psychiatry at New York Medical College.

The Richmans have four daughters: Dr. Myra Richman Togut, Assistant Professor of Pediatrics, Boston University School of Medicine and Director of Child Development, Kennedy Memorial Hospital, Brighton, Mass.; Dr. Beverly Richman Prutkin, Senior Clinical Instructor in Medicine, Mt. Sinai Medical School and Assistant Attending Hematologist, Beth Israel

Hospital, New York; Dr. Janice Richman Sufrin, Assistant Professor of Pharmacology, Washington University School of Medicine, St. Louis; and Lesley Richman Winaker, a practicing attorney in Houston, Texas.

All the Richman daughters were married at Park Avenue Synagogue. They, and their husbands, are the parents of 10 Richman grandchildren.

When Professor Yerushalmi approaches the podium to deliver his keynote address, he will, in effect, be "coming home to Park Avenue Synagogue". While studying for his PhD at Columbia, he taught in the Adult Education Department of the synagogue.

Yosef Hayim Yerushalmi

A summa cum laude graduate of the College of Yeshiva University, Dr. Yerushalmi received the degree of Master of Hebrew Letters and his rabbinical ordination from the Jewish Theological Seminary, where he also taught. He holds an MA and PhD degree in Jewish history from Columbia University.

His special interest is in Sephardic and Marrano history. He has done extensive research in the archives of the Inquisition in Portugal, Spain and Italy. He has published many articles in scholarly publications, lectured widely and currently serves as Chairman of the Publications Committee of the Jewish Publication Society of America.

Professor Yerushalmi was born in New York. He is married and has one son.

W.E.G. Sponsors Open Forum May 14 on Intermarriage/Conversion

Come to a community discussion on two of Judaism's most serious contemporary problems: intermarriage and conversion. On Monday, May 14, at 8:15 P.M., the Women's Evening Group will provide an open forum for discussion of these important issues. This is an opportunity to exchange ideas and information in an effort to develop a community Jewish response which deals with these ideas.

The Presidential Address of Rabbi Alexander M. Schindler to the Union of American Hebrew Congregations will provide the focus of the discussion. In his address, Rabbi Schindler made several recommendations concerning intermarriage and conversion. In addition to urging better Jewish education and conversion of the non-Jewish partner, he suggests the need for programs to welcome the newly converted spouse, programs to involve the non-converted spouse and programs to bring Judaism into the lives of unaffiliated people. Copies of Rabbi Schindler's address will be available before the meeting; the Synagogue Office also has additional copies for anyone wishing one.

Rabbi Harlan J. Wechsler will be among the resource people invited to participate in the discussion which will be moderated by Karolyn Gould.

Good Neighbors Offer Space To School

The Liederkrantz Club and the 92nd St. YM-YWHA have offered the use of their facilities to the Early Childhood Center and to the High School, respectively, George M. Shapiro, Chairman, announced at the April meeting of the Board of Trustees, should such space be necessary during the school year.

The Liederkrantz Club, located at 6 East 87 St., offered the use of its space to the Early Childhood Center next year as back-up for any emergency period. The latest building schedule will make any move by any school department unlikely during the 1979-80 school year.

The Club's elegant brownstone is but a half block from the site of the synagogue. Mr. Walter Mahnke, President, has been most gracious in his acquiescence to and understanding of the needs and requirements of an early childhood program.

The YM-YWHA, 1395 Lexington Avenue at 92 St., is no stranger to the students and faculty of the High School. Their facilities will be made available for back-up use by the High School in case of emergency.

Back-up space for the Elementary School is still being sought in the neighborhood. Announcement of the help of another good neighbor in providing such emergency space for the Elementary School will be announced soon.

We thank our good neighbors for their help!

Newsworthy Notes From The Elementary School

Item: 15 students of the Bet and Gimel Classes, representing the Park Avenue Synagogue Religious School, participated in the Annual Music Festival, sponsored by the Board of Jewish Education of Greater New York. Bergman and Yisrael Hayah Ve'sharah by E. Oren.

Item: A video tape recording of the signing of the Peace Treaty was shown to all students of the Elementary School that afternoon, Monday, March 26. It was followed by a discussion, by the chanting of Psalm 126, which Prime Minister Begin included in his speech, and by the singing of Hatikvah. At Services, the following Shabbat, Mr. Jerry Goodman, a parent in the school, gave an eyewitness account of the day in Washington.

Item: In anticipation of Passover, study Sedarim were held, within the week prior to school vacation. Special thanks must be extended to Micki Pollack and Fran Tompkins for their assistance in supplementing the studies' program with all the necessary ritual elements.
